scribe Platform of Principles for Candidates in Future.

Several of the leading newspapers of the State, notably The Tampa Tribune. The Lake City Index and The Brooksville Argus, are urging the necessity of holding a State Democratic convention to formulate and enunciate a platform of principles for the guidance and observance of the candidates in next year's primaries.

These newspapers are right. At present there is no Democratic platform, and, therefore, no Democratic party in Florida. Every candidate for and mud deposited by the falling river continues short, but there has been office makes a platform for himself analysis. in the eddies caused by the numerous no increase in the price of anything and runs on it, with the result that some men who are charged with not being Democratic are elected to important offices.

> It was stated, with the appearance of truth, that the late Legislature contained as members several Populists and at least one Prohibitionist who were nominated in the Democratic primaries of last year. Had there been a platform upon which all were required to run-that is, a declaration of principles which all candidates were required to accept and endorse before being permitted to run in the primaries, it is quite possible that some gentlemen who were members of the late Legislature, as well as others who were elected to various county offices, would not have been candidates in the primaries.

Under present conditions, when members of the Legislature are chosen, each one of them has ideas and plans of his own, and the result is that practically no harmony, no unanimity of purpose exists in the Legislature, and it follows that important legislation is neglected and many objectionable laws are enacted. For he truth of this statement we have only to recall what was done and what was not done by the last Legislature.

To remedy these evils it is absolutely essential that a State Democratic convention be called to frame a platform of principles for the govern ment of candidates and the guidance of voters in next year's primaries The Herald, therefore, cordially supports the demands of those news papers which are urging that a convention be called.—Punta Gorda Her-

NORTH POLE HAS BEEN DISCOVERED

AMERICAN EXPLORER, DR. AL-BERT COOK, LUCKY MAN.

Found It April 21, 1908, According to News Received at the Danish Colonial Office.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 1 .- According to a telegram received here at the Colonial office today, Dr. Frederick Albert Cook, an American explorer, discovered the North Pole on April 21, 1908. The news has caused great interest.

Frederick Albert Cook, the American explorer, was born in Sullivan county, New York, in 1865, and is consequently about 44 years old. He was educated in Brooklyn, and took a medical degree from the University of N-w York in 1890. He was surgeon of the Peary Arctic expedition, 1891-2; surgeon of the Belgian Anarctic expedition, 1897-9, and led expeditions to explore and climb Mt. McKinley, in Alaska, 1903-6. He has been decorated with the Order of Leopold of Belgium, the Royal Society of Belgium, and the Royal Geographical Society of Belgium, and is a member of the American, National and Philadelphia Geographical Societies, and is the president of the Explorers' Club of New York. He is the author of two books, "Through the First Anarctic Night," and "To the Top of the Continent," and has been an extensive contributor to magazines on Arctic and Anarctic exploration. Dr. Cook was married in 1902 to Mary Fidell Hunt.

There have been many Arctic expeditions, costing in the aggregate hundreds of lives and millions of dol-

The first time the North sea was entered was in the year 1001 by J. K. Other, a Norwegian, and since that time there have been various expeditions, each of which met with failure. The expedition of Peary three years ago was the most successful of all. Peary and his party in the steamer Roosevelt reached within 174 miles of pole and found new lands in the North American archipelago.

Further details of Dr. Cook's expedition are eagerly awaited.

. The Last Speaker of Cornish.

In the little village of St. Paul, near Penzance, there is a monument erected to the memory of Doll, or Dolly, Pentreath, who attained the age of 102 and was the last woman who spoke the Cornish tongue. This is the inscription: "Here lieth interred Dorothy Pentreath, who died in 1777, said to have been the last person who conversed in the ancient Cornish, the peculiar language of this country from the earliest times till it expired in the eighteenth century in this parish of St. Paul. This stone is erected by the Prince Louis Lucien Bonaparte, in union with the Rev. John Garnett. vicar of St. Paul, June, 1860. The Youngster Hushed. And the "youngster" held his tongue.

One of the most curious perquisites in connection with English coronations is the right of one of the peers to claim the bed and bedding used by the beir apparent on the night precedvalue, as the "bedding" usually consisted of richly embroidered coverlids of velvet or silk, with priceless hangings of cloth of silver and gold.

THE CRUSH OF WORLDS.

What Would Happen if a Dead Sun Invaded Our Solar System.

It is possible, though it is not proved, that stars may sometimes approach one another and even "leap madly from their spheres" "What would happen were an unknown star or a dead sun to invade our solar system?" asks a writer in the London Iljustrated News, who answers his query in two ways. In the first place, the star might rush straight into the sun and by the heat of the collision reduce the sun and all its planets to a nebulous mass without form or structure. But it is more mathematically probable that just as comets approach. circle and recede from the sun, so the starry invader of our system would approach our system and recede from it, having aftered it beyond recogni-

But what would be its effect upon our sun? The sun as we know it today is explosively elastic. Great tongues of flame which would consume a little planet like ours at a mouthful continually leap from it with speeds of several hundred miles a second. This enormous explosive force is restrained only by the greater force of the sun's gravity. But if an approaching star as great as the sur came within striking distance of it then along the line joining the two bodies, each would begin to pull the other, as today the moon pulls up the earth's oceans.

The mighty pull of the invading star would neutralize the sun's gravity in one direction, and the sun would, in a sense, explode. Out from our ancestral sun and from opposite sides of it would fly two great lengthening arms of matter, reaching far beyond the farthest planet. As the star passed, its moving mass would give a further twist to the sun and would pull the arms of matter into the shape of a great double spiral. Form and motion would thus be imparted to the nebula thus created, and from the solar system thus extinguished in catastrophe a new sun, with planets conlensing from the lumps and inequalities in the projecting arms, would

CAPE HATTERAS.

The Shifting Sands and Point of This Isclated Place.

There are few names more widely known in the United States or locali ties about which a greater ignorance prevails than Cape Hatterns Situated as it is at the angle where the long strip of sand beach from Cape Henry south turns at a right angle to the westward, with the widest part or Pamilico sound between it and the mainland and with the beach both west and north cut into several islands by inlets from sound to ocean, its position is isolated. No means of transportation exist along the beach, and with the nearest railway station from which a regular transportation route is operated nearly a hundred miles away it is an easier place to talk about than to visit.

Like all sand promontories, the point of the cape is always moving. An old wreck imbedded deep in the sand and showing only the stumps of her masts and bowsprit and the rusty skeletons of what were once her chain plates and dead eyes is now a quarter of a mile or more inland. Twenty years ago she is said to have lain in the water, where she struck or drifted ashore, the land now outside of her having been built up since by the action of the wind and the waves.

Two features connected with the sailing of the fishing skiffs used hereabouts are new to me. One is that of using a member of the crew as shifting ballast. A plank is run out over the side, the inner end caught under the lee washboards, while on the outer end, with legs dangling over the water. sits the man acting as ballast, and this not in racing, mind you, but in every day sailing. The other is the practice of "nodding." as I heard it called. In moderate weather, when the skiff is only lightly gliding along, one man will stand up alongside the centerboard on the weather side and, facing outward, will steadily rock sidewise from one foot to the other with faster And perhaps it does .- Charlotte Observer.

REMOVES

Every pore and gland of the skin is employed in the no essary work of preserving its smooth, even texture, softening and cleansing it, and regulating the temperature of our bodies. This is done by an evaporation through each tiny outlet, which goes on continually day and night. When the blood becomes infected with humors and acids a certain percentage of these impurities also pass off with the natural evaporation, and their sour, fiery nature irritates and inflames the skin; and dries up its natural oils, causing pimples, boils, pustules or some itching rash, or hard, scaly skin affection. S. S. S. cures skin troubles of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. S. S. A notoriouhabitue of the ensine, who had mad his money principally there, and so up an English vehicle, a pair of horse "tizer" and all, and cut quite a swe driving in the neighborhood, says I Instrucione. One day he was riding in the environs of the town when he servant, sitting upon the raised babehind, who had been feeling some what uneasy at not receiving his wages for some time, seeing his maste quite alone, ventured to ask him through the back window if he woninot make it convenient to pay him The master was in a good humor and asked

"How much is it, La Fleur?" "One hundred and twenty five livremay it please you, monsieur."

"Very well; here it is," said th master, spreading the sum in paper currency upon the seat of the vehicl-"Now, La Fleur, have you a pack of cards with you?"

"Certainly," answered the obsequious lackey. "I always carry them, monsieur." producing the cards at once.

"That is well. Now, I will be banker, and you shall play against me. I will take the front seat, the back one shall serve for our table, and you can look through this back window."

The lackey assented to this, amused at his master's condescension. Luck was rather on the master's side, but both men became quite eager in the game, thinking of that, and that only Little by little the footman's money went until all that was left of his wages was 5 livres. He began to feel anxious, when suddenly his luck turned, and he won the whole sum back, with every sou his master had Thorough Courses Leading to Degrees about him.

Piqued at his loss, the master wagered a horse, which the lackey won: then its mate, next the harness and lastly the carriage itself. Luck ran all one way, and the servant, La Fleur won everything. The master took out his watch and put it down against a given sum. The cards were shuffled and the lackey won.

"I have nothing more, La Fleur. You have cleaned me ont," said the half desperate gambler.

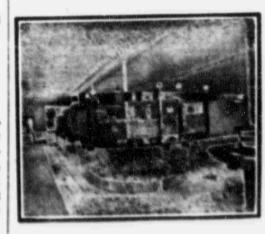

The servant was in high spirits at his strange run of luck.

"Here are a bundred livres, monsieur, I will stake them against your post tion. If you win they are yours. If you lose we change seats."

"Agreed." The cards were shuffled, La Fieur won, and the vehicle returned to Nic with its former master occupying the servant's box behind and La Fleur sit ting inside!

OLD POWDERHORNS

They Were Once Important Implements of Warfare.

TREASURED AS HEIRLOOMS.

Handed Down From Father to Son and From Friend to Friend-Engraved and Ornamented, They Were Used as Gifts Instead of Jeweled Swords.

Modern inventions have robbed warfare of much of its romance and the soldier of much of his old time picturesqueness. Although the powderhorn as an implement of war disappeared long before the magazine gun of today was dreamed of, it wasn't so very long ago, as a matter of fact, that men were carrying powderhorns. Some of the soldiers in the Mexican war, for example, used them.

The powderborns carried by the fighters in the early days of this country were often of comparatively simple workmanship, but they were cherished and handed down from father to son and from friend to friend. Strange to say, though cherished in this manner, collectors have had a very hard time in locating any great number of the powderhorns used in this country, and this in spite of the large numbers used in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries.

In the French and Indian war the English and Americans carried 10,000 powderhorns, it has been estimated. to say nothing of the number carried by those on the French side. In the Revolution there were, according to the best estimates, about 10,000 powderhorns in use in the American army without counting those on the British side. The European troops had long discarded them, of course, but their colonial allies naturally were equipped with them.

A few years ago Isaac J. Greenwood presented to the New York Historical society a collection of water color pictures of powderhorns he had found still in existence.

Although the search was prosecuted with great diligence, the number of powderhorns actually located and sketched was not much more than 400, showing how quickly the borns have been disappearing.

Powderhorns are supposed to have come into use almost simultaneously with the invention of gunpowder A way had to be found to carry the pow der and keep it dry, and men quickly found that there wasn't anything better or cheaper in mediaeval times for this purpose than the horns of an ani mal.

They were in general use in the sixteenth century and were brought to this country by the first settlers. The oldest horn whose picture appears in the collection was found near Schenectady, N. Y., and bears the date of 1683.

It was generally the horns of their own cattle that the farmer fighters of America used. The loss of a born in nowise impaired the usefulness of the animal, and bulls frequently were called upon to make the sacrifice. Such horns were easily obtained and wouldn't rust and could be carried in the rain and through streams without the powder in them getting wet.

They were always worn under the left arm by a strap that went over the right shoulder, the curve in the horn conforming to the shape of the body and serving to keep it out of the way of the wearer There was a stopple in the small end, and without being unslung the powder could be poured into the right hand and thence into the gun-

Boiled, scraped and cleaned and colored with an orange or yellow dye. which was the way most of the powderhorus were prepared, the lent themseives more readily to ornamentation by the owner than did any other part of his equipment, and it is this fact which has made them particularly interesting as historical relics. Admit-Ing Friends in the days when powder hories were in general use histend of presenting a hero with an engraved sword gave him a finely contact powderhorn.

Sometimes the horns were made by order and the chataving dene by a tofessionals. Many of these borns were beautifully celered too most popular shade being a sort of cracke tiet

He Dodged Cold Mutton.

Green, the English historian, one day asked a friend which of all the inventions of their day had done the most for the people as a whole. His friend guessed this and that, but the answer was:

"Beyond doubt, sixpenny photographs."

A reply involving quite as great an absurdity as that was made by Cecil Rhodes in answer to a lady who, seeking to draw him out, suggested that he owed his phenomenal rise to the impetus of noble sentiments.

"Madam," returned Mr. Rhodes, "I owe my fortune simply and solely to cold mutton."

"Cold mutton!" gasped the lady. 'Oh, Mr. Rhodes, what do you mean?" "When I was young." continued the South African millionaire, "I was so dosed with cold mutton and I hated it so cordially that I resolved to grow rich in order to put it on one side for the rest of my life. Yes, madam, cold mutton was at the root of my success. Noble sentiments had nothing to do with it."

Preparing For a "Dewel."

One of the most remarkable dozuments that have ever come under our observation, says a law journal, is to be found in the case of ex parte Scoggin, 6 Tex. App., 546. Mr. Scoggin was under indictment for the murder of one William Gerrard, and an extract from a memorandum book in defendant's bandwriting and found near the body ran as follows:

Johnson Co., Tx., Jan. 24, 1875.

As it may bee the last penciling that I may ever do on earth May heven Bless me and the man that I am going to fite. for we have been travling to geather some time and have fell out a bought the sum of $25 and have agreed to fight a dewel this Butiful night of our lord, and as one of us has to die May heven bless us, as this is the last half hour on earth with one of us, heven Preserve me now and forever. Written by Jesse Scog-. Bornd and rased in Tx. Sined by William Jirod, Bornd in Illinois.

Mr. Scoggin's plety apparently brought victory to him in the "dewel," for his adversary when found appeared to have been struck behind the ear by a thirteen inch shell.

A Substitute.

The young lawyer, having been nominated for the office of county attorney, thought to surprise an eccentric genius of the name of Si who was working as a bired man on the young lawyer's father's farm.

"Well, Si, what do you think?" the young man began.

"Sometimes one thing, Lonny, and sometimes 'nother."

"But, Si, they have nominated me for county attorney "

"They might 'a' done worse, Lonny, Howsomever, don't holler till you're

Gainesville is conceded to be the most enterprising as well as the most eautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atiantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by ands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing, phosphate and maval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progresswe and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big However, but little is yet known as to the loss of life and damage outside of this city. That the entire number lost will ever heretofore had not been in operation, be known is not probable, as many bodies must be burried in the sands and mud deposited by the falling river in the eddies caused by the numerous turns and bends in the stream's channe'.

Reports continue meager from points down the valley, but it is known that the village of San Francisco was entirely destroyed, the town of San Juan badly damaged, and the town of Camargo on the Rio Grande is reported to have been completely washed away.

A rider from the town of Cadereyta this State, the birthplace of Gen. Geronimo Trevino, stated to the Associated Press correspondent that twenty bodies had been recovered at that place, that hundreds were seen floating by with the flood and that on his trip from Cadereyta to Monterey there was not a depression in the ground or an arroyo which did not contain from one to ten bodies left there by the receding flood.

A complete list of the dead is abso-'tely unobtainable, but no Americans or other foreigners were lost, as none of them resided in the flooded dis-Ariet.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA Woman!

NEW ADMINISTRATION IS NOW THOROUGHLY ORGANIZED.

And Coming Session Is Expected to Prove Most Successful in Institution's History.

From Sunday's Daily Sun:

Under the wise and conservative but progressive administration of Dr. Murphree, the new president, the has taken on new University life and energy, the evidence of which is to be found on the campus and in every department of the University, which bids fair to assume the position and continue the work designed for it by its founders.

Law Department.

The books for the law library, purchased from the Lawyer's Co-Operative Publishing Co., through its popular representative, H. C. Utley of Jacksonville, Florida, are arriving and are being placed on the shelves for use at the opening of the University, September 29th. When all books are in place the library will contain the Florida Reports, United States Supreme Court Reports, American Decisions, Reports and State Reports, the Lawyers' Reports Annotated, New York Common Law and Chancery Reports, New York Court of Appeals Reports, Massachusetts Reports, Michigan Reports and New Jersey Equity Reports to the National Reporter, North Western, North Eastern, have an able educator as a trainer of South Western, South Eastern, Atlantic, Pacific and Southern Reporter. Florida. the Reprint of the English Reports, the Cyclopedia of Law and Procedure, and nearly three hundred or more of the leading text books and books of reference, making in all a library of more than two thousand volumes.

With such a library and with a faculty composed of men who have demonstrated their fitness by years of successful law school work in Florida, and including three of the leading members of the Gainesville bar in charge of legal ethics, Florida pleading and practice, Florida statutes and practice court work, the law school should command the confidence and support of the bench and bar of the State and should bring within its walls every young man desiring to thoroughly prepare himself to practice law in Florida. The prospects for the law school for the coming year are indeed bright, for there promises to be not only a large junior class to enter the school but a strong senior class as well, an unusual condition for a law school in its opening year.

Mechanical Engineering.

Professor Chas. H. Kicklighter sueceeds Prof. M. T. Hochstrasser (resigned) as Professor of Mechanical Engineering. Professor Kicklighter is a graduate of the Georgia School of Technology and a post-graduate of the University of Wisconsin. For three years he was instructor of mechanical and electrical engineering in the Georgia School of Technology. Later he organized the Carnegie School of Technology of Newberry College, S. C., from which institution he comes to us. The president of Newberry College speaks of Mr. Kicklighter as follows: "For two years he has commanded the highest respect of teachers and students of Newberry College and has shown himself a good teacher and disciplinarian. We are exceedingly reluctant to part with him."

Dean Balliet of New York University speaks as follows: "Mr. Thackston is one of the best qualified students we have ever had in the department of education and is a thoroughly well-equipped man. We have no other man in the University whom we could recommend quite so strong ly for your work." By the law of the State, provision must be made for the professional in struction of teachers. The University makes this provision, (1), by offering a four-year college course leading to the degree of B. A. in Pedagozy; (2), by offering a three-year course for the preparation of teachers for State certificates; (3), by offering a course preparing teachers for first grade county certificates: (4), by offering a review course for making up deficiencies in special subjects; (5), by offering assistance in correspondence course as part of the University Extension work. The University intends to put more stress on the training of teachers in the future than it has done in the past and the young men of this State will find just the advantages here to meet their respective needs. Teachers taking the course at the State University will be recommended to positions which they are qualified to fill and the president will render any assistance he can to county superintendents and school boards in securing principals and teachers.

work in the agricultural courses, in the various branches of engineering, and in the classical and literary work offered will be conducted by men of great skill and superior education.

The outlook for the next session is exceedingly propitious. Already nearly all of the rooms in Buckman Hall, the University dormitory, have been engaged for another year. The extensive improvements in this dormitory building, and the two new buildings which are to be erected on the University campus within the next few months at a cost of $40,000 each, together with other improvements on the campus, and the establishment of the law school, combine to render Florida's leading institution of higher education the pride of every citizen of the commonwealth.

In this University almost every advantage that can be found in the very best educational institutions in the South is offered to the young men of the State at the actual cost of living, and it is hoped that the press of the State will assist in making known this fact to our people. Only by this means will the youth of our State be encouraged to patronize our home institution in preference to institutions of other States, where expenses are greater while advantages, in many of them, are inferior.

ROCK ROAD WILL BE BUILT THIS FALL

BY PRIVATE SUBSCRIPTION AND COUNTY TO ASSIST IN PLAN.

Prominent Gainesvillian Heads the List With One Thousand

Doilars.

e'rom Sunday's Daily Sun:

Tax Assessor Colson stated to The Sun reporter on Saturday that it would be impossible to create the special road sub-district for Gainesville in time this year to have it placed on the assessment books and the levy made to make the funds available.

He knowing o. the situation, stated however, that the road to Newnan's ake would be built, and early this fall for he was positive that sufficient money could be raised by private subscription to defray the expense, and it is understood that certain of the county commissioners have expressed a willingness to help, providing a least one-half of the funds be raised by subscription.

One prominent citizen of the city has agreed to head the list with $1,000 and it is believed that enough more can be secured from $500 down to build the road, which will be a direct air line from the city limits to the lake, making it one that will prove a pleasure to the large number of winter visitors that Gainesville is expecting the coming season owing to the fact that it will be placed on a tourist schedule and people will be allowed stop-over privileges on their tickets.

The parties that are interested in this project will start out within the next few days with the subscription paper and raise as much as they can. when the committee will appear be fore the county commissioners with their report and see what assistance will come from this source.

With Major Thomas heading the list for $1,000 there will be a number of others who will come up with large amounts, and it is not now believed that any trouble will be experienced in securing the necessary amount, which will be only one-half if the commisioners will stand the remainder of the expense of building the road.

With good roads in all directions Gainesville will rapidly come to the front as the most attractive city in Florida, and while we have been slow along this line, it is well-known that once the citizens get started at anything here they never stop until they excel, and in this movement they will not lose their record.

Coon Feasted on Parrot.

Nick Francisco was so unfortunate as to lose his valuable parrot one day last week. One of his employes set the cage containing Polly on the floor, and while he was engaged in another part of the store a large pet coon in the establishment opened the door of the cage and carried the bird behind the counter, where he had devoured it before the cage was observed to be minus Polly. Nick paid $12 for the parrot, whereas the coon was bought for $1.

GAMBLERS CAUGHT ON LAST SUNDAY

SHERIFF AND MARSHAL BOTH MAKE RAID ON OFFENDERS.

Marshal Gets Eight and Sheriff Lands Five Out of the Two Crowds

Gaming.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

Monday morning's session of mayor's court had its usual crowd, all for various offenses, but the largest number for gambling, as the marshal and some of his deputies were active Sunday and succeeded in catching a number of offenders for playing with the bones.

Shad Sams, who had a general big time on Sunday and was unusually disorderly, was assessed a fine of $20 and costs. He considered this light for his spree and paid it.

The case of Jesse James, who was out for a good time, was postponed on account of some material witnesses being absent.

John Bishop, Ben Tillman, John McCray, Albert Jones, James Glass, Dan Brown, Rufus Collins, John Montgomery, were all arrested for gambling. They have secured an attorney and had their cases postponed on account of the absence or witnesses.

Sheriff Ramsey Catches Some.

Sheriff Ramsey, in company with a couple of his deputies, also ran amuck of a crowd of "skin" players on Sunday evening in an old field west of the city, and succeeded in getting five out of a dozen busily engaged in their favorite game.

They were Will Rowe, Will White, Hardy White, Lige Williams, Frank Watson. They had their trial before Justice Carlisle, and in this case three of the defendants appeared as witnesses and were discharged under chapter 5,400, Laws of Florida, Acts of 1905. The other two defendants were found not guilty, as no proof was made that the gambling was for money, or for anything else of value.

Shad Sams was also arraigned before Justice Carlisle on the charge of selling whiskey in a dry county. After hearing all the testimony and considering same, the Judge discharg ed the defendant, who had been arrested by Sheriff Ramsey upon a warrant sworn out by two other neproes.

The funeral will be held from the Methodist church this morning at 9:30, to which all are invited to attend, the services being conducted by the Rev. F. R. Bridges, she being a member of his congregation.

This is the third time within the past few weeks that Mr. Wienges has been called upon to mourn the loss of one of his family. His beloved wife died on July 17th, Mrs. Beal's baby died on July 31st, and he has the sympathy of thousands of friends throughout the county.

The following gentlemen are requested to act as pail bearers and at 8:30: John Feagle, Evans Hafle, W. R. McKinstry, John Flewellen, Wm. Cromwell and Morgan Fennell. The Thomas Undertaking Company will conduct the funeral

The funeral services over the remains of the late Mr. J. A. Beal were held at the First Methodist church Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, Rev. F. R. Bridges officiating.

A large number of friends of the deceased and family were assembled at the house of worship to pay their last respects to the deceased, while the cortege was large that followed the remains to the cemetery, being made up by a great number of the Rocky Point people, where she made her home for a number of years after her marriage.

The remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground, along with the other members of the family who had preceded her. The floral offerings were many, covering the grave and casket.

The United States Circuit Court for the Northern District of Illinois also the last. has handed down a decision which is of far-reaching importance, for if sustained by the Supreme Court it will curtail the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission to such an extent as to make it a mere acalemic body, vested with the right to pass opinions whether rates are reasonable or not, and not to dictate what the railroads have to do.

The decision was in the now-famous Missouri River and Denver rate cases. in which the Interstate Commerce adoption by the railroads of the principle that the through rate should all come waterlogged. ways be less than the sum of the local rates, and therefore ordered a and who tkes to do it, is the one most man would have tried to develop it. rate reduction, against which the desirable to invite to your camp for Western railroads sought an injunction and obtained it.

INJUSTICE TO MR. HOLLOWAY.

Several of our State exchanges have indulged in undue criticism of State Supt. W. M. Holloway for his proclamation regarding the fraud in the June examinations practised by negro teachers who made use of papers which had been stolen. The Sun feelquite confident that if the editors who have indulged in these criticisms were as well acquainted with the facts as we are, they would have at least been more lenient.

Some of the negroes implicated are those in whom Supt. Holloway and his predecessors had heretofore reposed the most confidence and the evidence elicited at the investigation in Gainesville was sufficient to cause Prof. Holloway to lose confidence in every negro engaged in the profession of teaching. The Sun feels that Prof. Holloway was fully justified in issuing his "Big Stick" proclamation, for the rascally methods practised by counties in the June examination was sufficient to exhaust the patience of any man.

We often hear the complaint that he milk has a disagreeable flavor. This flavor is also imparted to the butter. Such occurrences are annoying. However, in the greater number of cases, sour or badly flavored milk is due to neglect or carelessness. Milk when drawn from healthy cows is, under normal conditions, free from these objectionable features. If it is kept under proper conditions t will remain sweet for a considerable length of time.

When first drawn, milk may have no ill flavor, but after standing for few hours may develop a disagreeable bitter taste. This is not always due to bacteria. Improper feeding, or the use of certain feeds, such as onions or turnips, is often the cause of the trouble.
